

DURRANT IS GUILTY.

So Says the Jury After Only Twenty Minutes' Deliberation.

THE VERDICT IS CHEERED.

Mother of the Convicted Man Breaks Down Completely—Joy of the Dead Girl's Aunt and Sister—Rapid Progress in the Holmes Case—Testimony All In and the Arguments Made Today.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Theodore Durrant, assistant superintendent of Emanuel Baptist church Sundayschool, was yesterday convicted of the murder of Blanche Lamont after having been on trial since July 23 last. The jury was out 20 minutes and arrived at the verdict on the first ballot. As there was no recommendation of mercy, the punishment was fixed at death.

The scene in the courtroom when the verdict was announced will never be forgotten by those who were present. Judge Murphy finished his charge at 3:20 and the jury at once retired. Although there was supposed to be little prospect of a verdict being returned before 7 or 8 o'clock in the evening, the throng of spectators who had remained in the overcrowded courtroom all the afternoon to hear the judge's charge settled themselves back in their seats to await the return of the jury.

Mrs. Durrant and the prisoner talked and laughed together as if an acquittal were a foregone conclusion. They were surrounded by half a dozen friends and the conversation was animated. When it became whispered about that the jury had agreed upon a verdict a hush instantly fell upon the little circle that had gathered around the prisoner. Durrant's face, always pallid, assumed a ghastly hue and his mother was speechless. Then the door at the rear of the room opened and the jury filed in and took their seats in the box. Clerk Morris asked the usual question as to whether the jury had agreed upon a verdict. Foreman Warren Dutton arose and replied in the affirmative.

Verdict of Guilty.

"We, the jury," said he, "find the defendant, William Henry Theodore Durrant, guilty of murder in the first degree."

As the aged foreman, pale and trembling, read the words that fixed Durrant's fate, a low rumbling noise like the roar of a mob arose from the rear of the courtroom. The next moment men were cheering wildly, while women wept hysterically in excitement.

As the last words of the verdict were uttered Durrant made a spasmodic effort to arise to his feet, but before he could do so his mother, with a half sigh, half moan, threw her arms around his neck and sunk back into her chair. His mother's grief seemed to make Durrant forget his own position, and for the next few minutes he sat with his arms around her neck trying to soothe her. The long strain of the trial, however, had completely shattered her self-control, and it was some time before Mrs. Durrant could leave the courtroom.

Durrant recovered his old-time composure as soon as he left his mother and prepared to return to the county jail. With his overcoat swung carelessly over his arm, he walked leisurely out of the room, twirling his slight mustache with apparently as little concern as if he were merely a spectator instead of the principal figure in the exciting scene.

Aside from the spectators, Mrs. Noble, Blanche Lamont's aunt, and Maud Lamont, the dead girl's sister, were apparently the happiest persons in the room. When the verdict was announced Maud Lamont arose from her seat, clasped her hands and then cried of sheer excitement. Mrs. Noble mixed smiles with tears and shook hands with a number of friends who crowded around to congratulate her.

When order was restored Judge Murphy announced that sentence would be passed next Friday, upon which day he would also set the date for the trial of Durrant on the charge of murdering Minnie Williams.

Verdict Is Popular.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—The people of the city were almost as much excited last night over the verdict in the Durrant case as they were when the Emanuel church murders were first discovered. While some few of Durrant's friends profess to believe that it was impossible for him to commit the crimes, the general verdict is that he is guilty and should hang.

READY FOR THE ARGUMENT.

Judge Arnold Makes a Time Record in the Holmes Murder Trial.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—Tonight the world will probably know whether or not Holmes will hang. Incidentally Holmes, who is not now a part of the world, but a mere shrunken figure with a number, a cage and all men's enmity, will himself know.

When the trial began last Monday everybody anticipated a siege of at least two weeks, but the decision of Judge Arnold that no testimony would be admitted other than bearing directly on the murder of Benjamin F. Pietzel, had the effect of keeping out all matters relating to the death of the Pietzel children at Indianapolis and Toronto.

District Attorney Graham fought as hard as he knew how to get this evidence in, but the law was against him and the defense scored its first and probably its last victory. When he and himself bested, he said he would close his case yesterday, and he kept his word.

When the commonwealth's prosecutor announced that he was through, counsel for the defense calmly arose and made what many persons characterized as "a bold bluff" and many more as playing the last card left. They confidently told the court that the commonwealth had not made out its case and asked Judge Arnold to tell the jury so and wind up the trial then and there.

District Attorney Graham smiled an official smile and said this was too absurd to answer, but Judge Arnold expressed no opinion other than that the case would have to proceed.

Then the counsel made the astonishing statement that they wanted time to find out what the defense was going to be, because they had been so busy listening to the evidence against them they had not had a chance to prepare an answer to it. The court was not very anxious to create another delay, but finally suspended business and gave the attorney's an hour's talk with Holmes. This over, they came back in court and announced that they would call no witnesses, but would submit the case on argument alone. This will probably allow the case to end this evening.

There was no change in Holmes' demeanor, although a keen observer might have perceived a deeper pallor on his cheeks and in his blue eyes the subdued glare of a wild beast tracked to earth at last.

AMERICAN COLLEGE ATTACKED.

III Feeling of the Turks Culminates in an Attempt at Incendiarism.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 2.—Advices from Marsovan, Asia Minor, show that the trouble which was anticipated by United States Minister Terrell, in a dispatch to the state department at Washington in August last, has culminated in an attempt to burn the American college there. It is added that the would-be incendiaries have not been discovered.

Having put the Armenian question on the track of settlement, Kamil Pasha has asked the sultan to relieve him of the grand viziership, which has exhausted him and which demands the physical and mental energies of a younger man. The sultan, in reply, peremptorily declared that he could not dispense with his services.

Official news has been received here of fresh disturbances in Erzeroum, Orfah and Zeitun. Fifty persons have been killed and wounded at Erzeroum.

BELOW THE AVERAGE.

Loss of Life in the Gloucester Fishing Fleet Not So Large.

GLoucester, Mass., Nov. 2.—The statistics setting forth the losses of Gloucester fishing vessels and sailors for the year ending Nov. 1, show a large decrease as compared with those of last year. The fleet has not been as successful this year as it has at some other times, but the loss of vessels and men is below the average for the last 20 years. The figures show that 11 vessels, with a total valuation of $70,000, have been lost, while 90 men have perished. Last year 137 men were lost.

Will Look Looking For the North Pole.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Explorer Lieutenant Peary of the United States navy will report for duty at the Brooklyn navy yard today. He has been assigned for duty as a civil engineer in the department of yards and docks. His fleet officers at the yard state that Lieutenant Peary has given up all thought of reaching the north pole and will settle down to routine work in the navy department.

Charges Against Colonel Crofton.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—No report has been received at the war department of charges preferred against Colonel Crofton at Fort Sheridan, accused of employing enlisted men as servants. Such a practice is explicitly forbidden by statute, but even if the facts are as alleged the matter would fall within the initial jurisdiction of General Merritt, the department commander.

Son Shoots His Father.

PERRY, O. T., Nov. 2.—Dr. S. A. Briggs was flogging his 14-year-old son at Ingalls yesterday because the boy did not heed orders about doing chores about the house, when young Briggs pulled a revolver and shot his father through the arm and body, from the effects of which Dr. Briggs will die. The son was arrested here. Dr. Briggs is well known.

Killed Himself From Grief.

LEONISTON, Mass., Nov. 2.—Moses J. Lovering, a wealthy retired farmer of this place, aged 82 years, committed suicide yesterday by strangling himself with a towel. Lovering's wife died Wednesday and grief on account of her death and despondency at his own poor health is said to have been the cause.

CHANCES FOR A FIGHT.

Corbett's Manager Makes an Entirely New Proposition to Julian.

WILL NOT GO TO EL PASO.

Probability That the Meeting Will Take Place at Some Point in Louisiana. Governor Clarke Says He Will Drop All Proceedings If the Men Will Leave the State—Diningroom Incident.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 2.—There is now a probability that the big fight will come off. The time within a week and the location somewhere in the state of Louisiana, the exact spot to be determined. This much was decided upon late yesterday afternoon after the trials of Corbett and Fitzsimmons had been adjourned. Brady was cross and out of temper. His interview with the governor upset him still more, and an announcement that Dan Stuart had left Hot Springs for Little Rock with a proposition to have the fight come off at El Paso for a purse of $20,000 roused his ire to a greater pitch.

"I will not go to El Paso," exclaimed Brady hotly, "for $20,000 or any other amount. If I go there I will have the same trouble with the courts as I have been having here, and I will be bullied and badgered in this way no longer. The governor has informed me that he will drop the proceedings against us if we will not fight in Arkansas, and now I will make this proposition, and it is my ultimatum.

"I will accept one man for referee from the list prepared by Julian and select the battleground. If he is not willing that I should select the fighting ground, I will let him select one newspaper man, I will select a second, the two to choose a third, and let them pick out the place for the fight. We will fight him for $10,000 a side and for nothing less than that. Corbett will not fight for nothing. I have my money right here," and he showed it as he spoke, "and that is what talks. I have the thing in my own hands now, and no club will have anything to say about it."

Julian Accepts the Proposition.

When the proposition to fight at once was first submitted to Julian he was not inclined to commit himself. A committee of newspaper men, who had been authorized by Manager Brady to submit the proposition to Julian and Fitzsimmons, found the former in his room alone, the Australian being absent. The proposal to bring off the fight was then submitted and the manager was asked flatly if he would fight, all legal complications being removed. He attempted to defer his answer, but being pressed hard, finally said he would accept the conditions. A messenger from Governor Clarke arrived soon afterward, making the same offer the executive had made to Brady, and Julian expressed himself as satisfied with the situation and said Fitzsimmons would fight. He was shown a dispatch telling of the proposition to bring off the fight at El Paso, but like Brady, declared that he would not fight in or before any club with which Stuart was connected unless his forfeit of $2,500 was paid. He finally admitted that governors and sheriffs and the like were making him nervous, and declared that he did not want to take any risks of getting "mixed up with the law."

This leaves the situation thus: Brady, for Corbett, has made a proposition to fight; Julian, for Fitzsimmons, has accepted it, and if the latter's money goes up the battle will probably come off at a place as yet in doubt.

The Maher-O'Donnell and the Ryan-Smith mills at Hot Springs have probably been effectually silenced by injunction proceedings in Little Rock yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff Jesse Hard, who has Fitzsimmons in custody, said that he had received orders from Governor Clarke to kill either Corbett or Fitzsimmons, or both of them, if they attacked each other during their stay in Little Rock.

Corbett and Fitzsimmons Meet.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 2.—Fitzsimmons and Corbett came together here in the Capitol hotel last night, but no serious consequences followed. Fitzsimmons was seated in the diningroom when Corbett entered. As Corbett passed the Australian he poked his finger at him in a derisive and insulting manner, at the same time muttering some unintelligible sound. Everybody expected to see a fight, but Fitz was not game. He hastily looked up, flushed, and Corbett walked on.

Big Money For the Fight in Arizona.

PHOENIX, A. T., Nov. 2.—Senator Freze, on behalf of the Phoenix Athletic club, last night received from the Corbett-Fitzsimmons management a query whether the $50,000 offered by Phoenix will stand good. He replied: "Yes, and I will double it if necessary." The club feels safe in guaranteeing immunity from arrest. There is no trouble about the money, as one man alone offers that amount if the club needs it.

Kessler Train Robber Extradited.

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 2.—Governor Rich has issued extradition papers for James Brown, the self-confessed Kessler (Ind.) train robber, who is now in jail at Allegan, Mich. He will be taken to Indiana at once.

Japan Orders Three Battleships.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The Daily News announces this morning that a Tyne-side firm has just received a Japanese order to build three new battleships.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS.

Report on Trade Matters by Dun & Co. and Bradstreets.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—R. G. Dun & Co., in their weekly review of trade today, say: The rapid recovery in cotton and the rise in sterling exchange to the point at which last exports of gold were made have not increased confidence. There is a little demand for most manufactured products, retail distribution is fairly encouraging and the closing of many works is less significant at this season than it might be at others. It is a time of waiting, and uncertainty may naturally continue for some weeks.

Wheat has declined 1½ cents and corn 2½ cents in spite of many adverse reports about winter wheat. The large shipments from other countries, the small Atlantic exports and the large western receipts affect opinion more directly than ideas about next year's yield. Very large estimates of the corn crop have depressed prices. Pork and lard are not much changed, though hog receipts and packing are heavy.

The larger demand for manufactured products has held prices of cotton goods, and even advanced some prints, in spite of last week's decline in cotton. The mills are said to be carrying only moderate stocks.

Business Affected by the Drought.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Bradstreet's today says: The volume of general business has been smaller this week, due in part to drought, although the rains during the latter portion of the week have gone far to break the dry spell.

West and northwest the commercial demand has been mainly for staples, but with a falling off in volume. Extremes are found at Cincinnati, where business has been dull, and at Kansas City, where it is up to the average at this time, with heavy mail orders. Distributing centers in the northwest report a reaction in demand which is likely to await the arrival of winter weather. Larger eastern business centers feel the effect of the falling off in demand at the west, notably Boston, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. The situation at Buffalo, as at other lake ports, is better, owing to an active season on the lakes. No marked changes are reported from the Pacific coast.

Exports of wheat (flour included as wheat) from both coasts of the United States and from Montreal aggregate 2,743,000 bushels this week, against 2,658,000 bushels last week and 2,934,000 in the week one year ago.

BROKE THROUGH THE ICE.

Two Little Girls Lose Their Lives in the Des Moines River.

JACKSON, Minn., Nov. 2.—Ada Potter, aged 10 years, and Nettie Vagner, aged 9 years, were drowned in the Des Moines river in the city limits yesterday. The little Potter girl broke through the ice and her little friend attempted to rescue her. Both were drowned. Two older sisters of the dead girls tried to rescue them and both broke through the ice, narrowly escaping. They were gotten out just in time, and by prompt aid were resuscitated.

ADVICES FROM CUBA.

Gomez and Maceo to Invade the Western Part of the Island.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Ambassador Palma received advices yesterday that General Gomez and General Maceo began the work of forming a junta with the view of invading the western part of the island seven days ago, and that it is probable that they are now together, as Maceo was within two days' march of Gomez's camp.

Lieutenants Sanchez and Salas, the two envoys who have just reached this city from the camp of General Gomez's army with important documents from the commander-in-chief for Palma, state that they had to travel almost entirely by night and were shot at several times by Spanish pickets.

When they reached the coast they hired a boat and made for Nassau. They had not gone far before they saw a Spanish gunboat in the distance. They assumed as much as possible the attitude of gentlemen of leisure out for a sail and as the gunboat passed by said, "Long live Spain." They were not molested.

Released by Campos.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The state department has received a telegram from Consul General Williams at Havana stating that the case of Martinez Gonzalez has been quashed and his release ordered by the captain general, and that the case of Victoriano Valit Perez has been transferred to the civil courts. Both are American citizens.

Insurgents Must Be Getting Close.

HAVANA, Nov. 2.—Captain General Martinez de Campos and his staff, as well as the prominent generals, have been studying the country surrounding Havana in order to erect defensive works in case of trouble with some foreign power.

King of Portugal Takes an Outing.

POTSDAM, Nov. 2.—The king of Portugal arrived here last night in the course of his tour of Europe. Emperor William received his royal guest with much ceremony at the Wild Park station, which was beautifully decorated and illuminated. The king of Portugal dined with the emperor and empress.

RACING SEASON ENDS.

Makeshift Racetracks of Lake County Have Drawn Big Crowds.

PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT.

Extensive Improvements to Be Made Before Next Spring—Marsh Fires Break Out Afresh—Supreme Court Sustains the Blackboard Law—Boy's Skull Fractured While Playing—Minor Items.

HAMMOND, Ind., Nov. 2.—Yesterday witnessed the close of the racing season at Forsyth and Sheffield. Those makeshift racing courses have managed to draw big crowds, and the season of 30 days has been a paying one for all connected with the tracks. Before next spring it is said that extensive improvements in tracks, stands and other surroundings will be made.

HALLOWEEN TRAGEDY.

Traveling Man Assaulted by a Crowd of Troughs and Fatally Cut.

SULLIVAN, Ind., Nov. 2.—Frank A. Babbitt, a traveling man from Webster City, Ia., was fatally cut by Harvey Gordon, better known as "Spank." A crowd, among whom were Gordon, Gil Calvin and Sant Burkhardt, after having spent the night celebrating Halloween, set upon Babbitt, who was standing on the street, and beat and kicked him unmercifully. He was knocked down twice, and upon regaining his feet the second time Calvin gave him a knife to the neck and told him to "kill the sucker." Gordon, acting upon this advice, cut Babbitt 14 times. Two of the cuts will prove fatal; one from the right ear down the neck and into the left breast, and the other on the left side of the neck. Gordon and Calvin are in jail. Burkhardt escaped arrest.

Can of Cider Explodes.

BRAZIL, Ind., Nov. 2.—J. V. Ayer, one of the most prominent citizens of the city, has met with a serious accident. The family drank some cider, which had been put up in a tin can, and it made them all sick. He went out to examine the cider, and held a lighted match over the top of the can, when it suddenly exploded with a loud noise. He was badly burned about the head, face and eyes.

Marsh Fires Break Out Afresh.

LAFORTE, Ind., Nov. 2.—Marsh fires were raging again yesterday in the Kankakee swamps. The fire burned over five acres of ground on an average every hour and horses, wagons, haypresses and buildings were cremated. Until this last outbreak the fire was thought to have been checked and that there would be no further destruction of property.

Blackboard Law Sustained.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 2.—The supreme court yesterday handed down a decision sustaining the validity of the blackboard law. The case came up on appeal by the Pennsylvania Railroad company. The law requires railroad companies to post the fact in each station as to whether their passenger trains are on time, and if late, how much.

Child Burned to Death.

BRAZIL, Ind., Nov. 2.—The 5-year-old daughter of Charles Chambers, 10 miles south of this city, met a horrible death. The family left the child in the house alone, and in some way she got hold of a curling iron which, it is supposed, fell in her lap, igniting her clothing. When found she was dead and the body was frightfully burned.

Well-to-Do Farmer Missing.

BROWNSTOWN, Ind., Nov. 2.—H. U. Humphrey, a well-to-do farmer living near here, left his home last Sunday saying that he was going to Brownstown. Since that time he has been missing. He was a man very fond of his home, and his absence has caused much excitement.

Skull Fractured While Playing.

LOGANSPOUT, Ind., Nov. 2.—A 15-year-old boy named Charles Stonerock, living at Miami, sustained a fatal injury yesterday while playing "shinny" in his school yard during recess. One of his companions accidentally struck him on the head with a heavy club, fracturing the skull.

Woman Gets $3,000 Damages.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Nov. 2.—A jury in the Porter circuit have returned a verdict giving Mrs. Agnes Spzecholski of Chicago damages of $3,000 against the Hammond and East Chicago Electric railway for personal injuries she received in a wreck. She asked for $40,000.

Victim of the Deadly Cigarette.

LOGANSPOUT, Ind., Nov. 2.—George Hutton of Marshall, Mo., an inveterate cigarette smoker, fell in a fainting fit yesterday and he has been unconscious ever since. His recovery is not probable.

INDIANA NOTES.

A blaze at Rossville destroyed property to the amount of $3,000.

The Farmers' National bank and the Citizens' National bank, both of Muncie, have consolidated under the name of the Union National bank. Capital $2,000,000.

Eliza Allen, colored, of Indianapolis, last night shot at her husband during a quarrel. The bullet went wild and it is thought fatally wounded her 11-year-old sister Edna Payne.

Farmers in the vicinity of Waterloo are alarmed at the continued shortage of water, as many of the wells are dry and creeks are falling. Some of the farmers have had to haul water to keep their stock from suffering.

"OLD GUARD" MEET.

Secret Council of Some of ex-President Harrison's Staunch Supporters.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 2.—Yesterday afternoon at the Denison House several Republican politicians of national renown met in secret meeting. It was part of the "old guard" of 1888 that nominated General Harrison, and it is not thought they met at this particular time to consult about the damage wrought by the earthquake. Among them were L. T. Mickener of Washington, D. S. Alexander of Buffalo, W. H. Hart, ex-third auditor of the treasury, and Colonel John C. New. It is thought that the meeting had in view the commencement of a quiet campaign for the renomination of the ex-president. The McKinley and Reed booms, and especially the latter, are assuming well defined shapes, but the friends of General Harrison think he is the logical candidate, notwithstanding the hostility of the Quay-Platt-Clarkson combine.

NEW DIPHTHERIA CURE.

Preventive For the Dread Disease Discovered by a Kansas Professor.

LAWRENCE, Kan., Nov. 2.—Professor L. I. Blake of the State University has discovered a remedy and preventive of diphtheria, if the results of experiments already tried are to be relied upon. It is a mixture of salt and water, about two-thirds of the weight of the mixture being salt through which an electric current has been passed. This current produces chloride of oxygen and ozone in an active state. The mixture is used as a gargle.

The treatment has been tried in a number of ways, and has been found to instantly and completely kill microbes wherever found. Local physicians believe the discovery is a valuable one.

WHIPPED INTO INSENSIBILITY.

School Superintendent Uses a Hickory Stick on a Young Lady Pupil.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 2.—Miss Anna Van Hoozier, a pretty miss of 19 and a pupil in the Rushville public school, was yesterday flogged into insensibility by the superintendent, J. E. Atkinson, and the latter is now under arrest. The pedagogue used a heavy hickory stick and whipped the girl from the schoolroom to the street, whither she fled. An infraction of the school rules is given as the cause of the teacher's act.

Fishing Schooners In Trouble.

HALIFAX, Nov. 2.—The Gloucester schooner Aristook, Captain Blackburn, bound to the banks, went ashore near Liverpool during yesterday's storm and will probably prove a total loss. The crew was saved. Three schooners are ashore at West Bay, the Anastasia, Odd Fellow and Star. The last two may be gotten off.

Loaned Money For Personal Profit.

TACOMA, Nov. 2.—Ex-City Treasurer James McAully, who was removed from office on Wednesday for inability to give $100,000 additional bonds demanded by the city council, was arrested yesterday on the charge of having loaned $4,000 of city money for his personal profit, contrary to law.

Rev. J. O. Bache In Madagascar.

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—A local paper publishes a story to the effect that Rev. J. O. Bache, manager of the Union Central Life Insurance company of Cincinnati, who disappeared last February leaving his business affairs in a very badly tangled condition, is in Madagascar.

New Capitol For Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 2.—The new capitol commission, after an all day session, decided in favor of the plan submitted by Cass Gilbert of St. Paul, and he was, under the terms of the new capitol law, chosen as supervising architect.

That Dilapidated Bird.

That Went Through the Republican Fence at the Last November Election.

INSIDE HISTORY OF THE SCRAP

Between the Greencastle Democrat and the Rockville Tribune. All over a Tailless, Unfortunate Rooster.

The fight between the Rockville Tribune and the Greencastle Democrat continues to increase. They are fighting over how each shall construe democracy, and their constructions are wonderful to behold. It all grew out of the Democrat printing a rooster, after the Indianapolis election, said rooster having about two thirds of its tail gone. The BANNER TIMES in its issue immediately following the last general election printed the same rooster and spoke of it as being all of the rooster that got through the republican fence in Putnam county. The gate closed on the sluggish bird it will be remembered and got about all the tail feathers the rooster possessed last year. We want to bow low and commend the Democrat for its honesty in displaying the bird just as it was shorn of its beauty by the republicans of Putnam. The Tribune may rave and tear its aesthetic hair but the Democrat did no more than its duty in showing up the bird just as it is. We trust our democratic contemporaries will have all the fun they can now, for after the next whirl the bird will not appear as it will not get through the fence at all. In order that the public may keep the noble creature in sight and mind we have concluded to give that rooster the full benefit of the large circulation of the BANNER TIMES. Here he is just as he appeared in the Democrat of Oct. 16 and just as the republicans trimmed his feathers:

DR. JOHN'S LECTURE.

A Magnificent Audience Hears a Logical, Deep and Powerful Argument.

The large audience that assembled in Meharry hall last evening was a high compliment to the distinguished speaker. Dr. John was greeted by a crowd that filled the hall in both lower floor and gallery. It was a magnificent gathering and would have been an inspiration to any speaker, but to Dr. John it was more than an inspiration. It was a tribute to his popular standing here at home and to the high regard in which he is held by his fellow townsmen. The DePauw yell was given with a will when he appeared, and upon his approach to the front of the platform he was greeted with rounds of applause. Dr. Gobin spoke feelingly of Dr. John and said he was proud to state that one of Greencastle's citizens had taken up the battle against the insidious and elegant Ingersoll.

Dr. John's lecture was one of deep meaning and sound reason intermingled with profound scientific research. He used great eloquence in clinching his arguments in favor of God being the creator. Dr. John in his preliminary remarks did not denounce Mr. Ingersoll but stated he merely wished to take issue with his statements. He said he had written to Mr. Ingersoll and had asked him if he had misrepresented him in any way and had received a very courteous reply in which Mr. Ingersoll stated that he had not.

Mr. Ingersoll objects, said Dr. John, to the alleged author of the Bible on the ground that like the men who made him, he is ignorant, cruel, savage, unjust, immoral, inconsistent and unfaithful, and is opposed to art, science, education, progress and liberty. He objects to the christian system on the broad ground that it is unscientific. The speaker considered the objection under two general heads—first, being the moral objections against God's character, and the second against his revelation. Referring to Ingersoll's justification of nature, the speaker showed that nature is savage for it gives no quarter; that it is cruel, for it leaves man and beast to writh in untold torture from fire, famine, pestilence and flood; that it is unjust, for the innocent suffer with the guilty; that it is partial, for it helps the strong and oppresses the weak; that it is unfaithful, for it makes promises that it does not keep; that it is immoral, for by the law of the survival of the fittest, the weak becomes the slaves of the strong. Thus, continued, Dr. John, if the apparent moral obliquity of the God of nature is reconcilable with the moral rectitude which men demand that he must possess, then all similar moral objections to the God of the Bible must disappear. This does not prove the God of the Bible to be a reality, but that he is equally possible with the God of nature, and is that without moral obliquity. If nature can have a God whose infinite perfection is not irreconcilable with its stern realities, the same is true of the Bible. But nature is a fact, and if it have a governor, his character must be in harmony with his government.

Dr. John treated at length of Ingersoll's charge of cruelty against God in

Weak, Tired, Nervous

"I was feeling as miserable as any one could feel, tired all the time, many times unable to go out on the street even after I had started. If I went upon one flight of stairs I felt as though I should fall. I had palpitation of the heart and suffered greatly with catarrh of the head and throat. I finally decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon felt better. I used the third bottle and I then felt like a different person. I hope others in ill health will do as I did. If you take Hood's Sarsaparilla and use it faithfully I am sure you will be benefited. I have also found Hood's Pills to be of great benefit and I highly recommend them." ALLEN BROTHERS.

permitting wars, pestilence and famine, and quotes the agnostic as saying: "Why did not God to whom a miracle is so easy, make the world what he wanted at once and be done with it?" "Simply because he could not," said Dr. John. "God can make sticks and stones the way he wants them and so they will remain, but he cannot make two and two five, for then it would no longer be two and two. He cannot make parallel lines meet for they would no longer be parallel. He cannot make men virtuous against their wills for they would no longer be men."

Speaking of the intellectual objections of Ingersoll against the God of the Bible and of Ingersoll's assertion that he hates hell, Dr. John said that hate of hell cannot close its existence. "Hell," he said, "is already here. Men do not need to wait for the hereafter to encounter the flame. The majority of mankind are already in the fire. There is no hell, here or hereafter, other than that whose flames are kindled by the laws of sowing and reaping. Hell has already come into the universe because sin has come and it will stay as long as sin endures. The Gordian knot which we are to untie is the present hell rather than the future one. Sin and suffering are already here and as long as sin remains suffering must remain. The christian is under no more obligation to account for the present hell than is the agnostic; for, God or no God, the world is already in its flame, and whoever accounts for the hell on earth will equally account for the hell to come, for they are equally alike."

Dr. John reasoned that if it can be clearly shown that Moses made a mistake in his brief history of the origin of the universe, then he was not inspired by an omniscient God. But if it shall appear that his account, as far as understood, agrees with the facts as far as understood, this alone will be overwhelming proof that he was supernaturally inspired. The Doctor treated with the latest acquisitions of science and drew from the constellation Orion a story of another world forming, as the telescope shows, just as the solar system was formed. He dealt with abstruse propositions, which he clothed in familiar language, but at considerable length, to give a scientific foundation to his argument. Space does not permit a synopsis. The lecturer wound up with an eloquent picture of man's destiny, ending in the grave, as the agnostic would have it, or ending in the bosom of God, as the christian system teaches.

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

The Annual Convention as Held in the Christian Church. Notes.

On Wednesday and Thursday occurred the annual convention of the Sunday schools of Putnam county. The program as printed a number of times in the BANNER TIMES was carried out with but few exceptions. Messrs. Meigs and Weaver of the state association were present and added greatly to the interest of the convention. The townships were mostly represented by delegates who took much interest in the work. The treasurer's report was received and adopted. It showed total receipts and expenditures of $15.11.

The following committees were appointed by the president: Nominations—Mrs. D. E. Williamson, Miss Alice Bridges, W. G. Donald, I. M. Day, H. C. Allen, George Hathaway. On Resolutions—C. T. Peck, Miss Dora Burton, Miss Fionnie Crownell, Mrs. S. A. Gardner. On enrollment—Miss Emma Herbert, Miss Sallie Seller.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: R. A. Ogg, president; I. M. Day, first vice president; Mrs. Hamrick, second vice president; J. E. Newhouse, secretary; Dora Burton, assistant secretary; A. O. Lockridge, superintendent of home class work; I. Vermilion, treasurer. It was resolved that the matter of county organization be referred to a committee consisting of the county and township presidents with the pastors of the county to consider what if any changes should be made to enhance the work and that said committee meet within sixty days. A vote of thanks was extended to State Superintendent Meigs and to State Secretary Weaver; also a vote of thanks to Prof. Ogg and the other county officers of the association. The musicians of the christian church were also thanked. Rev. W. K. Weaver was secretary of the convention to whose notes we are indebted for this report. Owing to its length this paper cannot print as requested the resolutions of the convention as adopted. The resolutions speak very favorably of the "Home Class Department" and resolves in favor of a systematic house to house canvass of the entire county in concerted action on April 15, 1896.

Dr. Thomas M. Tucker, of Salem, died last Tuesday of a complication of diseases. About five years ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis, and recovered sufficient to resume his practice but was in feeble health. His last illness confined him to his room for four weeks.

Speaking of Dr. Tucker who was the father of Dr. W. W. and J. B. Tucker of this city, the Salem Republican Leader says: Dr. Thomas M. Tucker was born in Washington county, Ind., August 25, 1828. He worked on his father's farm, and attended district school until nineteen years old, then attended Washington County Seminary at Salem for a time, and later Honover college, which graduated him in 1855. For six months he was in charge of the Livonia Seminary, succeeding which he studied medicine with Dr. Fishback, and attended lectures at the Cincinnati Medical college, from which he received his degree as "M. D." in 1860. For four years he practiced his profession at New Philadelphia, then moved to Salem, where he continued three years longer. From that time until 1883 he carried on an extensive practice in the northern part of the county with headquarters at Kossuth, then returned to Salem, where he has since resided, engaged in active business pursuits. Mary Burcham became his wife in 1862, and six children have been born to them:

James B., William W., Mary L., Sarah
E., Martha I. and Elizabeth B. Dr.
Tucker was all his life a devoted church and Sunday school worker. He was a straight-forward, honest, upright, moral, Christian man and citizen. A short time after removing to Salem he united with the M. E. church, where he worshiped and was a devoted attendant while health permitted.

Howard Thomas will attend the wedding of his sister at his home in Newman, Ill., next week.

MUSIC AND ART NOTES.

The Choral society will meet on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock for regular work.

The Glee club will meet on Monday evening at 6:15 for a brief meeting of business and practice.

The DePauw Symphony orchestra will begin regular work for this season on Monday evening, Nov. 11. The time is postponed one week because of the series of meetings at Meharry hall.

Miss Selma Black, of Beaver City, came a few days ago and has entered upon work in the music school.

The teacher's drawing class is still registering new pupils in the art school. The work is very practical as well as genuinely interesting. Miss George has made special study along this line of work—as to the latest and best methods.

Miss Byrde Neff, one of our students of some two or three years since, is now teaching music and drawing in the public schools of Alexandria. She is delighted with her work and is making a fine success of it.

All the artists of university concert course are now arranged for and the full announcement will be made early next week. The course will open with a great concert by the distinguished Madame Guthrie-Moyer company.

An arrangement has been made with the city school trustees and county superintendent that where by Dr. E. Shipley is to make an examination of the eyes of all the school children in both town and county. This is done entirely without expense to the parent, and all that a parent has to do is to write a note to the child's teacher and request her to dismiss the child so as to go to Dr. Shipley's office. Dr. Shipley will give a certificate to each child stating whether or not the child's eyes are correct. Dr. Shipley will be in his office every day from 8 to 12 and 1 to 5 and children can go between these hours any day except Saturday. Parents should not neglect this matter as it is worth everything to the child. Many children fail to learn in school because of defective vision. This is a permanent arrangement and children can be sent at any time during this or any other year.

MORE MILEAGE.

Territory Covered by C. H. & D. Books Still Further Enlarged.

Commercial travel, as well as that material portion of the general public availing itself of a mileage transportation, will be highly gratified to learn that the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway Company have arranged for a still further extension of the already far-reaching territory covered by their Twenty-dollar one thousand mile tickets, effective October 15th.

C. H. & D. commercial mileage tickets are accepted on the Baltimore & Ohio R. R., west of and including Pittsburg & Wheeling Division. This, in addition to the large number of roads over which a C. H. & D. Mileage book is now operative, renders it one of the cheapest, most comprehensive and convenient books in the United States, embracing, as it does, 12,000 miles in round figures, of 33 of the most prominent and important railways in the territory bounded by lines drawn between Cincinnati, Pittsburg, Buffalo, Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit, Chicago and St. Louis.

VIOLA CREAM

A lovely complexion only Nature can give. She gives a new, clear and soft one to those who use Dr. Hebra's Viola Cream. It is not a paint or powder to cover defects. It gets rid of them, by Nature's own process of renewing the vitality of the skin, banishing all roughness, redness, freckles, moles, pimples, blackheads, sunburn and tan. It does this surely and harmlessly, because naturally. Its use means both skin beauty and skin health. Viola Skin-Soap hastens the process, because it is a pure and delicate soap. It should be used in connection with the Cream. It should be used in the nursery, too. Ordinary soaps are not fit for a baby's skin. Viola Cream, 50 cents. Viola Skin-Soap, 25 cents. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. Send to G. C. BITTNER CO., TOLEDO, O.
